POLICEMAN HOWE ON TRIAL.

Charged With Drinking Intoxicating Liquors While on Duty. Policeman John Howe, the veteran officer who for several years has been sta-tioned at the Battimore and Ohio depot, was up before Trial Judge Pugh this morn-ing, on the charge of having in dulged in the use of intextenting liquors while on duty. Samuel Al'man, a cabman stationed at the depot, was the complaining witness against Howe. His complaint specified the 30th day of June last as the occasion upon which the officer entered a cab and while inside drank whisky from a bottle. He further charged that Howe was under the influence of liquor at that

It was also charged that Howe was in the habit of sending over to Emrich's he drank whisky while in the toilet form of the depot.

Altman Was the first witness, and his testimony was substantially the same as the affecations contained in the information. When questioned by Judge Pugh Altman admitted that Policeman Howe had incurred the enmity of himself and the other cabman by toaking them toe the mark of the back regulations.

Maurice Millerick, another cabman, tes tified that he fought 10 cents' worth of beer for a cabuuan named Coleman. "Bid Mr. Howe drink some?" asked Mr.

"I don't know," he answered-"Was Howe drunk?"

"I don't know," answered the witness.
"Why." asked Mr. Pogh.
"Well, I was so drunk myself that I couldn't tell," replied Millerick, amid Bowe, in his own defense, denied that than tek, which was sent over to him with his lunch from the Emerich Hotel. He said be had much trouble with the abnuan on the stand.

Lieut. Kelley and Sergt. Lombardy both testified to the excellent habits of Howe for the last twelve years. John Rowles, of Byattsville, said the complainant, Altman, had told him that he would get even with Howe if he ever got Policeman W. N. Hayes testified that he knew positively that Howe had never taken a drink white on duty. This closed the testimony, the decision being reserved MORE REST FOR FIREMEN.

Commissioner Wight's Forethought Commissioner Wight has decided to ineffute a change in the method of receiving alarms at the fire engine houses. At present when there is a fire the alarm is sounded in all the houses and themen are required to keep themselves and the apparatus in readiness for twenty minutes, no matter there the fire may be. If the fire breaks out at night the men and horses are wakened by the alarm, and their rest is Thus, though only two or three of the companies may be required in most in-stances to turn out, nevertheless every man and horse in the department is called up by each alarm. To remedy this Comlarge going now kept in each house by a small bell, and to keep a man on duty constantly to watch it. In those houses, within whose jurisdic tion a fire breaks out, the watchman will berequired to get out the men; at the others no notice will be taken unless in case of a eneral alarm, when again those companie affected will be called out by the watch-

It is thought that this change, which is a most desirable one, can be affected with very little cost to the District. The changing of the gongs will not be expensive and the new system will require no extra men, as the privates in each engine house will be detailed in rotation for watch duty
